

The Intersection of Math and Mission: A Conversation with Michael Meltzer

BY MICHAEL MELTZER ON APRIL 27, 2026

Michael Meltzer speaks with the Jewish Communal Fund about how thoughtful financial planning can turn complex tax situations into meaningful philanthropic impact. The conversation highlights Michael's personal giving journey, his work with donor advised funds, and the idea that "math" can help support a broader charitable mission. Click here to continue reading.